

ESIL Annual Conference 2022 – ESIL Interest Group on International Law and Technology

Algorithmic and Technological Modes of In-/Exclusion – International Legal Method and Critique

Wednesday 31 August (hybrid format – times in CET)

Panel I – Digital in-equality, in-justice and in/exclusion (10.00 - 12.00)

- Strengthening Solidarity through Technology / Carl Jauslin
- The Responsibility of Victims: Towards Pluralistic People-Centered Vision of Digital Justice and Accountability / Kebene Wodajo
- Justice is Spiky: How Inequities in Access to Digitization Impacts International Criminal Law / Christine Carpenter
- Re-visiting South Africa’s Commitment to the Right to Equality through the Lens of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning Algorithms / Hanani Hlomani and Tayla Pinto
- Accessibility Statements and Data Protection Notices: Rendering Data Protection Law Inclusive and Accessible? / Olga Gkotsopoulou

Panel II – Algorithmic Sensing, Surveilling, Sorting and (un)Socializing (13.00 - 15.00)

- The Use of Behavioural Pattern Recognition in Classifying Terrorists: Overinclusion of Digital Identities / Tasniem Anwar and Klaudia Klonowska
- You Are Where Your Data Are: Un-bordered Human Rights Mediation / P.J. Blount
- From Human to Algorithmic Decision-making in Armed Conflict: A Methodology of Exclusion and Why It Matters / Tsvetelina van Benthem
- Preserving Cultural Diversity in the Digital Environment: Towards the Development of a “Culturally” Responsible AI? / Clémence Varin and Iris Richer

Panel III – Lawmaking in a Digital Era – Spaces, Subjects, Styles and Struggles (15.30 - 17.30)

- From Digital Ethics to Human Rights by Design – a Constructive Approach to Incorporate International Human Rights Law in AI Technology / Dafna Dror
- Terms of Use Agreements and Social Platforms / Tim R Samples, Katherine Ireland and Caroline Kraczon
- Between Personal Data Commodification and Personal Data Protection: Double Movement in International Economic Law / Magdalena Słok-Wódkowska and Joanna Mazur
- The Computation of Custom / Emilie van den Hoven
- Internet Design, Algorithmic Policies, and Regulatory Capture as American Hegemonic Reinforcers in Israel and Palestine / Riccardo Vecellio Segate